

GENERAL STRIKE IS CALLED TODAY

DIFFERENT UNIONS WILL HOW-EVER VOTE ON THE QUES-TION.

WAITS FOR FINAL ACTION

Meanwhile Riots Continue and Street Cars Are Wrecked in the City of Brotherly Love.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 22.—President Murphy of the Central labor union called a general strike of all organized labor in Philadelphia today in sympathy with the striking street car men. It is estimated that thousands of men will respond.

The immediate cause of the general strike order was the arrest last night of National Organizer Pratt of the Car Men's union. He was this morning given a hearing and released on $2,000 bail.

Some of the unions are against sympathetic strikes and others are opposed to breaking the trade agreements, but notwithstanding these conditions the radical labor leaders say the order will be generally obeyed.

President Murphy of the Central inter union, declares that the general strike order will not go into effect until it gets the approval of the presidents of the various trades unions.

An unknown man was killed as a result of a riot at Fourth and Market streets this afternoon. He was walking along the street when he was caught in a crowd that was attacking two street cars.

He was forced off the sidewalk and pushed against a heavy wagon, falling under the wheels and was crushed to death.

The State Penitentiary have been ordered out for duty, six companies in all, and the first, second, and third regiments of infantry, city troops of cavalry and Battery B, of artillery are waiting orders should the government order out the troops.

The State Penitentiary receive their armory from the city on condition that they are subject to police duty and have all been sworn in as special officers. Aside from the regular state troops there is a battalion of colored troops that are subject to a call for service should they be needed, making in all nearly four thousand troops in the city waiting orders.

MILWAUKEE'S AUTO SHOW ATTRACTIVE

Second Annual Exhibition is Said to be one of Largest and Most Complete in Country.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 22.—Milwaukee's second annual automobile show was opened at the Auditorium today and it is generally admitted that it is one of the largest and most complete ever held in this country. The Auditorium, with its 41,000 square feet of floor space, bigger even than Madison Square Garden in New York, offered advantages which the manufacturers of automobiles were not slow in utilizing. The result is exceedingly gratifying to the management, the exhibitors and the visitors of the show.
Particularly interesting among the side features is the aeroplanes division and the department of the show will continue through the week and special programs have been prepared for every day.

RECALLING FIRST AMERICAN NOVELIST

This is 100th Anniversary Of Death Of Charles Brockden Brown At Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 22.—This day marks the one hundredth anniversary of the death in this city of Charles Brockden Brown, to whom historians accord the distinction of having been the first American novelist, as well as the first American to take up literature as a profession capable of yielding one livelihood. Brown was born in Philadelphia, January 17, 1771, and was of Quaker descent. From early childhood he was physically delicate but intellectually precocious. Before he was ten years old he had read every book he could procure. From his eleventh to his sixteenth year he was a pupil of Robert Proud, the historian. Geography was his favorite study and he acquired an astonishing knowledge of the subject. Constant devotion to his studies and lack of exercise in the fresh air undermined his delicate health and led to the development of the germs of consumption which later ended his brilliant career. He began to study law in the office of Alexander Wilson, of the Philadelphia bar, but in his spare time he wrote essays and poetry and devoted himself to the study of literature.
After a short time Brown abandoned the study of law and devoted himself exclusively to literature, the first professional writer of this country.
Among other things he wrote "The Memoirs of Henry" (1797); a series of papers under the head of "The Man at Home" of the Weekly Magazine and numerous other magazine articles and essays. His first novel, "Wieland," or "The Transformation" appeared in 1798.
Soon five others followed, "Arthur Mervyn," "Edgar Huntley," "Sky-Walker," or "The Man unknown to Himself," "Ormond" (1799) "Jane Talbot," 1801;
"Clara Howard" (1801) In November 1801 he married Elizabeth, daughter of Dr. Wm. Linn, of New York.

FOR A WASHINGTON MASONIC MONUMENT

Movement Was Officially Launched Today at National Gathering at Alexandria, Va.

Alexandria, Va., Feb. 22.—A movement for the erection of a national Masonic memorial to George Washington was officially launched today at a national gathering of eminent Masons held under the auspices of Alexandria Washington Lodge of this city. Grand master Masons from many sections of the country attended this "launching" this morning at which a national organization was formed to carry out the project. Later in the day the visitors journeyed by special train to Mount Vernon to place a wreath on the tomb of Washington.
George Washington was initiated as a member of Masonic Lodge No. 4, of Fredericksburg on November 4, 1752. No unusual display was made at his initiation, and the only relics of the occasion handed down by the lodge are the records, the Bible on which he took the oath, the certificate or check for two pounds and three shillings, fee for entrance, and the punch bowl which figured so conspicuously at the repart following the degree work.
These relics are highly valued by the Fredericksburg lodge. The Bible is in a perfect state of preservation, except for a slight discoloration of the leaves by age. Only on one occasion were the relics ever taken out of the city or state, that occasion being the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of Washington's initiation into Masonry. They were taken then to Philadelphia, where they were displayed to the members of Meridian Sun Lodge, No. 158.
The minutes of the Fredericksburg lodge speak of the occasion of Washington's initiation in a most casual way, the secretary noting "Washington's presence but not that he had received a degree."
On the occasion of his receiving the second degree the secretary noted it in his minutes in a more elaborate style than on the occasion of his first degree. This degree was conferred the following year, August 1, 1753.
The third degree was conferred on him on which occasion the minutes not only give a record of the business of the evening, but also named those present and their official designation.
In 1777, when the Grand Lodge of Virginia was organized Washington was tendered the exalted position of grand master of Masons of Virginia, the highest honor that could be bestowed upon him. He had the honor also of being the first master of Alexandria-Washington Lodge, No. 22, over which lodge he presided at the time of his death.

GOVERNMENT DELAYS SETTLEMENT OF THE WASHINGTON ESTATE

Land Bequeathed by "The Father of His Country" to His Heirs Is Still Held Up.

While the American people were honoring the memory of Washington on the anniversary of his birthday little had they that his estate remains unsettled, and that through the action of government officials themselves his heirs were deprived of property he has acquired by purchase and specifically bequeathed in his will.
Yet such is the case. When the revolution was over Virginia gave each officer and soldier pay in the shape of warrants for lands in her western territory. Major General received some twenty-three thousand acres each, Colonels eight thousand, and so on down the line. Of all the troops in the Virginia line Washington was the only officer who refused to accept pay for his services. He would not take the land, because he said that he felt that he had found ample compensation in serving his country, and had enough to provide a competence for those to whom he owed it.

When he made that statement he had, among his possessions a little over three thousand acres of land in Ohio, all of which had been acquired by the purchase of regularly issued land warrants. One of these warrants called for three thousand acres of land, and had been issued to John Rostes, by the English governor, Dunmore.
Afterward, when the colonies had achieved their independence, Virginia ratified these warrants issued under the authority of the British crown.
Later, Washington bought another warrant from John Cope, a revolutionary soldier, calling for a hundred acres of land. Under these two warrants Washington located his lands in Cleve-mont county and Hamilton county, Ohio.

In the years that followed he paid taxes on these lands, and upon one occasion, having heard that others were about to get possession of them through relocations, wrote the federal authorities inquiring about it. They replied that his lands would be protected, and if any attempt were made upon them by squatters he would be advised.

When Virginia ceded the territory which now constitutes the State of Ohio to the federal government, one of the prime stipulations of the act of cession was that all her land warrants should be antedated. Those of Washington were among the list of warrants included in this stipulation.

ing their aims at higher office in abeyance.

MORRIS SETTLED MATTERS

From Now on Activity Will Mark Work of This Faction of the Republican Party.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 22.—The slate of candidates with which the La Follette faction of the republicans of Wisconsin will go before the people in the coming state campaign is made up. The final touch was put in the combination at a secret conference held a little over two weeks ago either at a hotel in Chicago or an obscure Illinois town. The result was as follows:
For United States senator—Robert
M. La Follette, to succeed himself.
For governor—Francis E. McGovern of Milwaukee.
For lieutenant governor—State Senator Thomas Morris of La Crosse.
For secretary of state—James A.
Fear, to succeed himself.
For state treasurer—A. H. Dahl, to succeed himself.

For insurance commissioner—Herman L. Ekern of Arendia.
For attorney general—Frank T.
Tucker of Neillsville.
Formal announcements have placed some of these already in the field, the last being that of Senator Morris yesterday, whose statement that he had determined to try for the second place on the state ticket rather than for the governorship caused great surprise.

No announcement is needed to place
Senator La Follette in the field. Mc-Govern declared his candidacy weeks ago, even in advance of the frame-up meeting.

Tucker is not formally announced, but admits his candidacy. Fear and Dahl have both flirted with the governorship, and Fear has been given some encouragement to become a rival of La Follette for the annu-ship, but they have finally settled

MOUNT VERNON.

Later, when Washington wrote his will he bequeathed these lands to certain of his heirs, and advised them to hold the property as an investment, predicting a rapid enhancement in their value.

In the meantime others had made second locations upon the lands, and though the Washington estate did what was possible to protect itself from this squatter sovereignty, to this day these lands have been haunted down under these second locations.
Even the field notes of the Washington surveys were used in making these second locations. Thus, through the carelessness of government officers, the lands which Washington regarded as a valuable part of the estate, passed from it without a dollar of compensation. For a hundred years this injustice has been permitted to continue.

In order that it may be settled, Robert E. Lee, Jr., grandson of the Confederate commander, and direct descendant of Martha Washington, has been appointed administrator de bonis non of the Washington estate. The heirs are simply asking that they be paid as much as the land would be worth were it standing in timber today, one hundred dollars an acre.
However just their claim, it does not look now as if congress will consider it at this session. Thus the heirs who might have had twenty-five thousand acres of land by gift are denied the benefits of three thousand acres which was required by Washington by purchase.

In all the list of claims that are pending before the government there is probably not one so full of interest and carrying so much regret to the people that it is unsatisfied as the one of the estate of the father of his country.

TOBACCO ASS'N WILL MOVE HEADQUARTERS

Wisconsin Union, Wisconsin Society of Equity Will Move Offices to Eau Claire—State Tobacco Growers' Ass'n.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)
Madison, Wis., Feb. 22.—The headquarters of the Wisconsin union, Wisconsin Society of Equity, will be moved from Madison to Eau Claire, by vote of the board of directors at a meeting here last week. It was voted also to move the office of the Wisconsin Tobacco Growers' association, the organization of the Equity society's members, from Madison to Stoughton, Dane county. The resignation of Treasurer George O. Moon, Madison, of the Equity society, was announced, the action being taken in order that Mr. Moon may devote all his time to the affairs of the Wisconsin Tobacco Growers' association, of which he is secretary and salesman.

The change in headquarters of the Equity society has been long contemplated. Eau Claire is the center of a large territory in which the society is strong. The need of better warehouse facilities led to the selection of Stoughton as the future headquarters of the Tobacco Growers' association. Efforts have been made to buy or lease suitable store-houses in Madison, Stoughton and business houses have given the association encouragement in locating in the Norwegian city.

The Wisconsin Tobacco Growers' association originally was known as the tobacco branch of the Wisconsin union of the American Society of Equity. About a year ago, for many reasons, it was voted to form an association, it being stipulated that it should handle only the tobacco of those growers who were members of the Equity society. The association enters into contracts with these growers, agreeing to handle the weed at a certain commission. After the packing at the warehouse are completed, one sample of each is taken to Madison headquarters and when all are in, the managers of each warehouse, or other person agreed upon, meets here. Together with the board of directors they examine all the samples, and with their knowledge of market conditions agree upon what is termed an advisory minimum price. This the association's salesman used to guide him in making sales. The association's executive board, however, has power to change this price at will.

At present twelve warehouses are maintained in Wisconsin, 12: Westby, Wis., Virginia, Independence, Taylor, Black River Falls, Wausau, London, Chippewa Falls, Barron, Stoughton, Blair and Whitehall. The 1907 crop was the first one handled by this organization. In 1908 the Blair, Whitehall and Independence business was concentrated at Taylor, Jackson county. This year packing is already in progress at Westby and London, and will be started at Stoughton within ten days. On account of heavy frosts throughout the north, which practically ruined all the tobacco in certain sections, the association will handle at Taylor all the remaining tobacco which it usually handles at Black River Falls, Chippewa Falls, Independence, Whitehall and Blair.

On account of the expiration of the lease on the warehouse at Virginia, and inability to secure any other warehouse, a stock company has been formed, Guy's Mills, and a modern warehouse will be completed and in operation within two weeks. The tobacco handled by the association in the vicinity of Virginia will be divided this season between Westby and Guy's Mills. Nearly all the required stock has been subscribed to form a stock company to build a warehouse at Virginia. The prospects point to a larger packing at London this year than was done last year, and if warehouse facilities can be secured at Stoughton practically the same amount will be handled there, as was done last year. Attorneys have been employed recently to consider incorporation of the tobacco growers' association, and this will assuredly have been accomplished before another packing season comes on. There has been a general awakening all over the state, say the officials of the Wisconsin union, as to the needs of an organized body. The wool growers affiliated with the union have done exceptionally well. It is added, with their co-operative marketing. Warehouses are maintained in Barron, St. Croix, Chippewa and Dunn counties. The officials claim a larger margin of profit has been realized, than under the old system, and that they will double it not far from the business this year. As a result of educational work done in this state, there are now about one hundred co-operative enterprises, including clove, shipping stations, warehouses, etc., owned by this association. The membership of the Wisconsin union now numbers between 10,000 and 12,000. Calls for speakers in many parts of the state are received every day.

Present at the recent director's meeting were, President I. M. J. Christ, Hudson; Vice President A. H. Hunt, Eagle Point; Secretary M. W. Tibbs, Madison; Treasurer George O. Moon, Madison; A. Slaughter, Menomonie; H. G. Tank, Marathon, and Judge D. O. Mahoney, Virgoque.

The operator, with great presence of mind, extinguished the incipient blaze with his hands and beyond the injury to the film no damage was done.

FARMERS GATHERED FOR INSTITUTE AT ORFORDVILLE TODAY

Seventy-five Present—Conservation of the Soil Was First Subject to Be Discussed.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)
Orfordville, Wis., Feb. 22.—The Farmers' Institute was opened this morning with an attendance of about seventy-five farmers. J. T. Gardner introduced David Lurie as the leader of the institute, and Mr. Jacobs of Dane county, the first speaker, talked on soils and fertility. This topic will be the most important that will be taken up during the institute. The conserving of the elements of the soil is of even greater importance than the money question which has been agitated throughout the country today.

The speaker said the attitude of the farmers, both the old settlers and the new immigrants that come to this country, in general is wrong. They are anxious to get the immediate dollars from the soil and forget about the future.

In the east today there are about 16,000 square miles of abandoned farms, not because the land is not good, but it has been robbed of its fertility and nothing been returned. No fault of the soil, but in methods in cultivating it. Fifty per cent of the farms in this locality are increasing in value each year and fifty per cent are decreasing. Simply per cent of the increase comes from only 10 per cent of the farms.

The fact that the farmer has been in too much of a rut. For example, the grain raisers have raised crop after crop on their farms and neglected the rotation that would increase the fertility. New England farms have decreased in value some $200,000,000 each year. The question was asked, "Was the farm originally good?"

He proved that in the Connecticut valley there are miles of tobacco land that is abandoned because the land is becoming poor. The fertility is lacking because of the repeated raising of tobacco crops. The main point to keep in mind is, we cannot continue to rob the soil without returning the fertility taken from it.

It struck a hard blow to the tobacco raisers of Rock county because there is not enough money made from the tobacco to correspond with the extra amount of fertilizer it takes out of the ground.

He went on to give the cost of raising corn and tobacco, comparing the cost of the two. He showed that the receipts of an acre of corn was $31.50 and that of tobacco $110 for one acre, a profit of $18.10 for the corn and $25.50 for the tobacco and the natural return per hour for corn was 80 cents for labor and 55 cents for the tobacco. Less fertility is taken from the soil by corn than tobacco.

In order to preserve fertility and keep down the weeds of the crop they should be rotated. His method was three-crop rotations. If a person sells clover hay from the farm, he sells $4.45 worth of nitrogen and phosphorus and potash. If he leaves the same on the farm instead of selling it, he enriches the farm to an amount of $7.20 for every ton of hay.

Mr. Lurie then spoke of the clover and alfalfa. He said the trouble of many of the farms today is they are minus the vegetable and humus matter. Clover is a humus plant and adds nitrate to the soil.

An experiment at Ottawa, Canada, with Mammoth clover that was tested on the 25th of May showed that it had 72 3-10 pounds of nitrate and was valued at 15 cents a pound, which would amount to $25.80 per acre. That would add to the value of the crop above the ground besides adding humus to the soil.

Later this afternoon cooking school will be held. The dishes to be served are: beef stew in the fireless cooker and new dishes, such as scalloped oysters and cheese. A new way of cooking pork chops will also be shown and the making of 15-minute pudding and codfish chowder.

There is quite a little excitement in the village today as J. P. Coon is taking in about 100 acres of tobacco for the American Tobacco company which brings in a good many farmers to the village.

IF EDGERTON AND BELOIT GO DRY?

Chief Appleby Tells From Future and Sees Possible Busy Days Ahead of Department.

Chief of Police George Appleby is entertaining conjectures regarding some awful possibilities. Supposing Beloit should "go dry" this spring? That would mean that Janesville would have to entertain the Rockford drunks whom the Beloit police load onto the last southbound Interurban cars every Saturday evening. And what if Edgerton, also, which is now looking after most of the Stoughtonites with high "battering averages," should also join the 11-2-0 caravan? Wouldn't Janesville become a roaring old Mecca for the cheerleaders? Wouldn't they come thronging in from south and north and west to make the place livelier than Bobbie Burns' birthplace on a week-end holiday? Some of the overflow gets here now. It is enough and enough's a plenty. But just suppose Janesville went "dry" and there is talk of an anti-alcohol campaign. What then?

Mrs. Clara Griffiths, who about three months ago was given an hour to leave Janesville under threat of a prison sentence, wants to come back for a minute or two and get some belongings which she claims to have left at the dyehouse and a second-hand store. She has written a very touching plea to Chief of Police Appleby, begging him to extend the desired permission, addressing her as Miss Clara Johnston, Rockford, Ill. The Chief, however, says that "the decree of banishment holds for all time and that Clara must return to her old haunts under any pretext whatsoever."

U. S. WASTFUL. HIS DECLARATION

ALDRICH DECLARES HE CAN SAVE COUNTRY $300,000,000 YEARLY.

SAYS TAFT SUPPORTS CHARGE

Rhode Island Senator Talks in Favor of His Economy Plan in Senate and Starts Discussion For and Against.

Washington, Feb. 22.—"If I was permitted to do so, I would undertake to run the government of the United States for $300,000,000 a year less than it now costs." This was the declaration of Senator Nelson W. Aldrich in a speech in which he indicted the government on the charge of extravagance.

He was not presenting a formal proposition, but was making a speech to the senate on his bill providing for the creation of a commission to reform the business methods of the government.

Pleads for Authority. He pleaded earnestly for the authority, saying that present methods were obsolete and involved the annual loss of at least $100,000,000 a year. At his instance the bill was so amended as to provide that the commission should be composed entirely of members of congress—five senators and five members of the house.

Mr. Aldrich spoke in response to Senator Dooliver, who opposed the bill on the ground that it would create suspicion in the minds of the public as to the methods of conducting the government's business.

Mr. Dooliver said he feared the commission would accomplish no good, but much evil. He regarded the bill as a proposition to enter upon "a blanket disavowal of the government's business." He declared that the commission would cost no less than $300,000, and said he thought there were too many commissions in the field already. Mr. Dooliver said he did not know what was the motive of the legislation.

"I know that the executive departments are taking much interest in us these days," he said. "We have fallen on times when much interest is taken by the department in the details of legislation."

For Federal Commission. In his speech Mr. Aldrich said he did not desire to serve on the proposed commission. He spoke at length of the duplication of the work of the various departments. He did not doubt that ten per cent. of present expenditures could be saved by a commission.

Mr. Money regarded as most serious Mr. Aldrich's admission that $100,000,000 a year was being wasted by misadministration. He agreed that there should be a commission, but he did not believe that it should be composed of members of congress, for he had little faith in mixed commissions.

There was much more discussion of the bill. Mr. Carter traced the present evils largely to the ambition of departmental officials. As going to show the inadequate methods of the department was unable to ascertain from the books of the post office department the cost of carrying the second class mails when it endeavored to do so a few years ago.

Mr. Newlands advocated a commission to be appointed by the president. Mr. Bristol expressed the opinion that the commission on public expenditures should do the work which it is proposed to impose upon a commission.

CAIRO JURY FAILS TO FIX BLAME FOR MOB

Inquisitorial Body Lays Murder Charge at Door of Unidentified Deputy Sheriff.

Cairo, Ill., Feb. 22.—No individual deputy sheriff was named in the verdict of the coroner's jury which investigated the death of Alexander M. Halliday, who was killed in the mob which last Thursday night sought the life of John Pratt, the negro pursuenter. The verdict was returned soon after the taking of the testimony of many witnesses. The jury found that Halliday came to his death by a gunshot wound caused by a weapon in the hands of one of Sheriff Fred D. Nellis' deputies, fired from the north window of the circuit clerk's office in the courthouse.

Mrs. Maloney created a sensation by positively denying the interview with her which appeared in a St. Louis newspaper, and which quoted her as saying that Alex Halliday, the dead man, had come to her after the purse snatching and offered to lead a mob to lynch Pratt, the negro who has been convicted of snatching her purse.

Other important events of the day were the arrival of Company H from Shelbyville and the discharge of the grand jury by Judge Butler. The grand jury, partly composed of negroes, did not probe to the mob incident. The foreman, J. W. Wenger, was released by marriage to the dead man, Alexander Halliday.

NO FLAGS FLY FROM THE FIRE STATIONS

Ragged Emblems Deemed Worse Than None At All—City Dads Reminded But Did Nothing.

When Junior James Gillespie raised the stars and stripes over the city hall at 6:45 this morning, the postoffice emblem was the only other one visible over the wide area of roofs. Neither the east nor west side fire stations raised the colors throughout the day. The flags that used to be displayed there on national holidays have been reduced to rags and the city fathers, though reminded of this fact on one or two occasions, have failed to do anything about it.

May Robson in "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary."

L. S. She will present May Robson in Anne Warner's delightful comedy, "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary," at the Myers theatre, on Wednesday, Feb. 23. For the past two seasons Miss Robson has appeared in this merry comedy in every large city from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast and has met with instant success. The critics have endorsed it as one of the cleverest and best comedies seen on the stage in years.

The play is unlike anything else ever put on the stage. It is filled with the breeziest and most delightful dialogue ever, and it presents several that are truly absorbing. The part of Aunt Mary as portrayed by Miss Robson is a delightful piece of work, and it keeps the audience in a continual roar during the entire performance.

As a character actress Miss Robson is superb. Her exquisite style and poised, her smooth, nerve soothing voice, and the rapidity with which she changes from the ludicrous to the emotional, fairly captivates her audience.

The first act opens at Aunt Mary's home, where the different characters present themselves. The nephew has been suspended from college, and hurries home to tell his aunt. There he meets a girl, the sister of his chum, whose automobile has broken down in the rain. After the departure of the party, Aunt Mary anything except the wrong of a woman, and tells her own romance. Their lawyer arrives with the news of a breach of promise suit brought by a Kalamazoo girl. A chance to explain is denied and Jack leaves for his chum's home in New York.

The second act opens in the chum's house, several weeks later. Not hearing from the aunt, a letter has been written informing her that Jack is ill. She arrives at the house and is received by the girl masquerading as a servant who makes herself indispensable during the visit. The boys take Aunt Mary around the city, show her the sights, take her automobile.

The Kalamazoo girl visits the house and has an interview with the girl, who says she will have nothing more to do with Jack.

The third act is again at Aunt Mary's house. In the interval the girl from Kalamazoo has had a change of heart through the kindness of the aunt, and arrives at the home just after the girl, who has been sent for by Aunt Mary. They meet, and the trouble is cleared up, and Jack comes back and there is a reconciliation. Miss Robson is supported by a clever company of players.

CALL TO ARMS

President Taft has laid down a series of measures that he desires the present congress to pass. They are party pledges, part of the platform that he was elected President on, and as such he desires to see the presidential platform fulfilled.

While the house whip and spokesmen for the senate have been insistent in declarations to the effect that legislation is being put through congress in the present session with more than usual expedition, the president finds, at the end of three months, that the measures which he has recommended have in most instances made little, if any, progress. The postal savings bank bill, which appeared to have a free passage cut out for it a month ago, still lingers in the senate, and unless it is disposed of at once it threatens to clog the progress of the only other administration measures for which there is reasonable hope.

One by one the president is dropping some of the bills that he urged at the beginning. The corporation bill has been laid aside. The Alaska government bill is now to be withdrawn. There is reason to believe that the stretched measure will be held over. Unless there be an immediate change in the attitude of congress toward the administration measures—unless there be an improvement for the better in the disposition of the republican majority toward the president, some evidence of a sincere desire to comply with his wishes—it is not at all unlikely that the production made by a prominent republican member of the house a month ago, that beyond the passage of the supply bills little would be done, and that there would be an early adjournment, will be fulfilled.

It is understood that the president is now "talking plainly" to his party's managers, and it is also understood that they promise more expedition. Nevertheless, the impression is gaining ground that the managers, and those who permit them to manage, are disinclined to go very far with Mr. Taft's program at present, and some of them are frank enough to defend this course on the ground that the country is not looking for now have half so anxiously as it is for the intelligent, impartial and vigorous enforcement of the laws we already have.

NEW COALITION

With Senator Morris' announcement that he is to be a candidate for the second place on the republican ticket a new coalition in the political field is said to have been determined upon. Whether Morris will associate himself with Lewis of Racine, McGovern of Milwaukee or Strange of Oshkosh is a factor in the coming primary campaign. Should it be Lewis with whom he will work the old Hatton and McGovern feud will be renewed and it is safe to say that an underground tunnel will be found leading from the Lewis strong hold to the La Follette campaign headquarters. Should it be with McGovern then it is safe to say that the Senator will come from the man whose fight for United States Senator two years ago he repudiated at the last minute. Whichever way the alignment comes it promises to complaints matters considerable. Meanwhile the attempts to find a candidate to run against La Follette appear to be useless. Heard has been mentioned but refuses to allow his name used. Cook, ever willing, has his paid Men Friday seeking to bring about a state wide call for his support, and the younger element seek to force Judge Hancock into the field as the one man who could hope to accomplish anything against the man he helped create. It is an interesting fight taking it all round and what makes it more interesting is that it is a fight among the former supporters of the Demolished himself and not the old time lineup. This latter element, with a few exceptions, will do a pile of thinking but will keep out of the active fighting despite all reports to the contrary.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

Today the nation commemorates the birth of George Washington by declaring the day a holiday. The school children have it impressed upon their minds that the nation loves to honor the man who led the forlorn hope of the Revolutionary war, by enjoying a respite from studies. Flags fly from public buildings and many homes are displaying the red and white with the blue starry field. It is a pretty tribute this nation pays to its hero dead. It is a fitting tribute to the man, who above all the privations that beset the ways of the patriots, led his pitiful army to the glorious victory at Yorktown that gave us our freedom. Others played their part like men in that great struggle, but to Washington is given the honor that he deserves. As a farmer, as a surveyor, as a soldier, as our first President, he devoted his best energies to the work before him. Born in a period when the great struggle of the old civilization of Europe was about to contest for supremacy with the newer spirit of the west he played his part and his life's work is an example to the world at large. They teach of him in the kindergartens, the boys and girls of today learn more of his life and work as they grow older and once a year even the busy man pauses to pay tribute to his memory.

State politicians consider the talk of the coming campaign being a tall one as a joke. Whereupon bids fair now to take the cake for being the liveliest state politician on the map this summer.

It cannot longer properly be called a revolution in Nicaragua; it is more an oscillation with the probability of victory swaying from one side to the other almost daily.

By the way, Janesville is to elect five aldermen, five supervisors, a city treasurer and a city attorney this spring. Did anybody hear anything drop?

George Washington was first a war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen, but some one also beat him to preservation of the forests.

That cherry tree story is due to be unwrapped today and carefully exploited again for the benefit of the rising generation.

New Jersey, the mother of trusts, is going to try a little of the doctrine of the Old Woman in the shoe and spank some of the naughty ones and send them to bed.

George Washington never shot a white rhinoceros or a dingo, but he managed to do a little bit of Indian fighting in his day.

Paris is now said to be in a normal condition. To discover water in a cave one must ask for it twice.

Alaska is having a taste of the so-called grafting and still it is not even asking that it become a state.

This talk about the high prices appears to have subsided together with the high prices.

Uncle Walt

THE POET PHILOSOPHER

By WALT MASON

(Copyright, 1909, by George M. Adams.)

Ah, my friends, how Time is sprinting! Winter soon will cease its whirling, soon we'll hear the joyous robins singing blithe some roundelay; soon the summer will be scintillating, then the fall goes calling, and before we realize it there'll be other winter days. Time is always in a hurry; all his days he seems to worry lest he miss some big engagement, and he goes cawing on; if you try to buttonhole him, try to jolly or cajole him, he will crack his heels together, dodge around you and be gone, but at day, it seems, has vanished, since the old, tired year was banished, since he wrapped his beard around him, and went hiding to the green, and the new year, fresh and winning, made an excellent beginning, but already he's a grown-up, and they say he needs a shave. Thus Time flees, and never pauses, heading not our horns and haws, scoring all our wild petitions for a little hour's delay; and the wise man keeps a-awarding, never tilling, never shilling, so that when he gets his summons, he will have his stack of hay.

Real Meaning of "Aftermath." "Aftermath" is a persistently ill-used word. Early July is the time of the "math"; that is, the first mowing of the meadows. The short grass—with a sufficiency of rain—will grow again, and later will come the "second mow" or "aftermath."

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

TRUANT FATHERS.

Nearly every city has truant officers to look up the children who ought to be in school.

None of the cities or states has a truant officer or the efficient machinery for the capture of husbands and fathers who desert the wives and families dependent upon them.

Many of the states have laws against desertion, some of them with severe penalties, but the recalcitrant man who wants to dodge his domestic duties when they grow irksome to him can easily go into another state and hide his identity and, assuming the risk, marry again and in turn desert another family.

This criminal truancy of fathers is on the increase.

A Cincinnati woman, moved by pity, has written a letter to President Taft asking for a federal law that will protect mothers and children and compel truant fathers to care for them.

She says that the records of her city alone show that in eleven months more than 2,700 truant fathers have deserted their families.

And no doubt a careful census of other cities and towns would show a like ratio. Every community has its ratio of delinquent husbands and fathers.

Unfortunately the national government is powerless to relieve the situation. Under our constitutional government the states have exclusive jurisdiction over marriage and divorce and desertion—more's the pity.

If the base crime of family desertion could be elevated to the dignity of an infraction of the tobacco or whiskey laws federal inspectors and secret service men would be able to mete out swift judgment against those deserters.

In the absence of a national marriage and divorce and desertion law the only thing to do is to see that severe penalties are provided by the states and that the state officials are zealous in the pursuit, arrest and extradition of the truant.

That man—or creature in man's semblance—who will deliberately desert the wife he has sworn to protect and the children he has brought into the world is guilty of the most atrocious crime in all the catalogue of heartlessness.

The males of animals will fight to the death to protect their own.

There are absolutely no extenuating excuses for the cowardly thing that runs away and leaves wife and children to the pitiful struggle for bread or the cold waves of public charity.

Let all such be followed not only by the sting of society's scorn, but by the stern efficiency of an outraged law.

A hinge at the top opens the cabinet and keeps the contents water-tight by reason of the fact that the edges of the lid are bent down and protect the racks. The lid can be unlocked and the whole affair does not take up much room and is much more convenient than to have the various supplies scattered around in different places and the stamps sticking together, buried out in the different shelves and pigeonholes, everything can be seen at a glance and a good supply for the convenience of those along his route.

Cushions Are Inflated and Filled Over Back of Chair.

For anybody who likes solid comfort and particularly for invalids, who need it, the back rest back rest device by a New York man will be found a useful article. The device is a simple one and the device is simple and how it works. There are three further cushions, all provided with means for inflation. The two upper cushions are largest at the point over the shoulders and taper down toward the shoulders. Between them there is a space to rest the neck or back of the head. These are fastened to a triangle of strong leather which has a strap hanging from its lowest point. By this strap is suspended the third cushion, an elliptical affair which can be adjusted, to any point along the back and which is especially useful in the numerous cases of neck or shoulder backache which makes sitting uncomfortable. While this invention is especially welcome to invalids, it will also find many users among those who like to take their ease in reading chairs. It can be inflated in a few minutes and when not in use can be deflated, taken from the chair where it has been placed in a closet. It is also most desirable for those who travel, requiring only a very small amount of space in one's satchel.

Every Knock is a Boost

A man came in from an adjoining city yesterday and said: "I decided to come to Janesville to have my work done. And my dentist told me not to come to Dr. Richards."

It seems that his work or of me, was justified against me because I was, in times past, when the darkness of pardonable ignorance blinded the eyes of the professional man to the fact that the people wanted to be told through the papers about what could be done for them, professional men did not advertise. "Today, to my way of thinking, a false pride (which has been handed down by tradition through the years) keeps good men from telling the people about their good work and about the ways and means they have of serving them and saving pain and trouble."

Of course I did the work for the existing man, because he resolved to see why the other dentist, "knocked" him. The patient saved seven dollars and got a different piece of work done to his entire satisfaction by coming to talk the matter over with me.

NEW HOTEL RAIDED THIS MORNING AND MANAGER ARRESTED

George F. Carle, Manager of Railroad Hotel, Arrested on Warrant Sworn Out in a Deloit Court.

Charged with selling liquor without a license, George F. Carle, manager of the New Hotel at the North-Western freight yards, was arrested by Sheriff H. G. Scheibel this morning and taken to Deloit, where he will be given a hearing. The arrest was made as a result of a warrant sworn out by a private detective working in conjunction with the Citizens' Advance, a temperance paper published in Deloit.

Complaining to the governor of the state, the district attorney and Superintendent W. E. Worswick of the North-Western, have been made by railroad men who object to having their lives endangered by drunken fellow-employees and when the information came to the ears of the temperance workers in Deloit prompt action was taken.

When the raid was made this morning about eleven o'clock six cases of bottled beer, a number of empty whiskey bottles and several stone wine filled presumably with whiskey were seized as evidence. The booty has been placed in safe keeping in this city, but Carle was taken immediately to Deloit to answer the charge.

For some time the hotel has enjoyed somewhat of a shady reputation and several incidents have occurred in the building that have caused much unfavorable comment. It is alleged that the liquor has been sold on a tight plan and that the practice has been one of long standing.

According to a dispatch from Deloit this afternoon, the warrant was sworn out yesterday by a detective named Graves, who is connected with W. O. Ward, head of the temperance movement in the Lake City. He stopped at the hotel for some time under the name of Dunbar and secured his evidence. Graves secured the warrant in Municipal Judge Rosa's court and it was served by Deputy Floyd Carter. Carle has been put under $100 bonds to insure his appearance in court tomorrow.

MAJOR PORTION OF AUTOMOBILE STOCK HAS BEEN PLACED

Encouraging Reports Given at Meeting of Subscribers Held Last Evening.

Thirty-five of the fifty thousand dollars worth of stock necessary to bring the Monitor automobile factory to this city has been sold, according to the reports made at a meeting of the subscribers held in the office of the Hays Brothers last evening. Eight thousand dollars was secured by those who are pushing the proposition since the last report was made. This additional amount brings up the subscription to the present figure.

Encouraged by the progress made, those who have charge of the subscription are bounding every effort to place the remainder of the stock before next Thursday when another meeting will be held at which time J. E. Northing of Chicago, a representative of the Monitor company, will be present. Mr. Northing attended the meeting last night and spent some time in the city investigating the advantages of this city as a location for the company.

Those who are pushing the proposition are convinced that the company will come to this city, and are hopeful that the entire amount of stock will be sold before next Thursday. Business men as a whole are becoming more and more confident that the auto company has a bright future and are substantiating this confidence by liberal purchases of stock.

Of Bottle Containing Carbonated Potash and Boroglyceride—Forehead Cut by Splinters of Glass.

In mixing a solution containing carbonated potash and boroglyceride in the drug store laboratory Saturday evening, George E. King accidentally corked the bottle so securely that the gas formed by the combination of chemicals had no vent. The receptacle exploded in his hands and some of the flying splinters of glass struck his face and forehead and inflicted a number of ugly little wounds. Luck was with him, for by the merest chance, his eyes escaped injury.

PAYS THE PENALTY IN SUGAR FRAUD INVESTIGATION. Oliver C. Spitzer at right, Marshal Henkel at left, as they boarded the train for Federal prison at Atlanta.

New York, N. Y.—Oliver C. Spitzer is now in the federal prison at Atlanta as the result of the exposure of sugar frauds. He was formerly the dock superintendent for the sugar trust, and is one of five little victims of the trust. With him were convicted four $18-a-week employees, checkers in the line of the trust. These men were sentenced to one year each on Blackwell's Island.

Before the victims of the trust were fairly out of the courtroom the case of Charles R. Hollis, secretary of the sugar company and confidential lieutenant to the late Henry O. Havemeyer, was called for trial. The indictment yesterday was that Hollis, one of the chief instruments of the trust, when the weighing frauds were being perpetrated, might win freedom on the plea of insanity guaranteed to grand jury witnesses.

Oliver Spitzer's last appearance in court was a pathetic one. After 30 years' service in the interests of the sugar trust, he faced the judge alone. Not one of the men who might have appeared as his friend was in the court room. Judge Martin hurried the proceedings through as rapidly as possible. Spitzer stood up straight and did not move a muscle as sentence was pronounced.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"Gumbo" Smith, the new heavyweight, who is said to have once put Johnson out, is training for the fight top-notchers. Pictures show this ex-sailor at his training quarters, Merchantville, N. J. "Gumbo" stands over six feet two; weighs 180 pounds, and his blonde hair waves over a pair of sharp blue eyes. Here is "Gumbo's" description of his encounter with Jack Johnson: "We were sparring. He was trying me out. He kept tapping me on the nose with his left hand and I could not reach him easily. I tried and fell short. When I found this I decided to go in first and throw a right hand over with all my might. Johnson was caught before he could get away and he dropped. I had not intended to knock out Johnson. I did not do so. Johnson was down about four seconds." "Gumbo" is 21 years of age.

MACVEAGH TO REDUCE EXPENSE

Shows How Treasury Department Can Do Run Economically.

Washington, Feb. 22.—As if anticipating the investigation desired by Senator Aldrich on his grave charge of governmental extravagance to the extent of $200,000,000, Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh issued a statement after the adjournment of the senate, in which he shows how the treasury department can—in the respects he mentions, be run more economically.

Summed up, Secretary MacVeagh's plan is to lay off unnecessary clerks, have the bureau of engraving and printing do the work that is done in the treasury building and replace hand labor with computing machines. Secretary MacVeagh's statement will no doubt in due time be followed by statements from other executive departments.

Our Embroideries Are Alluring-- They Deserve Your Inspection

WE wish to emphasize the fact that these embroideries, though imported and the finest the market affords, are not priced high. They are within the reach of even the modest purse. Our line of embroideries are bought direct from the importers of fine Swiss materials made in Switzerland that are equalled nowhere for fineness of quality and excellence of workmanship and beauty of design.

The Flouncings

this spring are among the daintiest and prettiest in the embroidery line. The wide flouncings come in 45 in. width, which is full skirt length. Made on medium weight and also fine Swiss material in the solid embroidery work and eyelet.

The narrower flouncings vary in width from 18 to 27 inches wide.

Galloons

have become popular as an effective trimming for summer materials, and we have anticipated the demand this year with a choice selection. They are made with a finished edge and vary in width from 1 to 5 inches.

The line of corset cover embroideries comes in cambric, nainsook and Swiss and is made up of a variety of beautiful patterns.

Allover Embroideries

A minute description of the Allover Embroideries would be impossible to give. The plainer patterns, all of them neat and dainty, can be had at 50c, 65c, 75c and $1.00 a yard. The more elaborate come as high as $3.00 a yard.

Our SWISS, NAINSOOK and CAMBRIC Edges and Insertions are priced from 5c to $1.25 a yard. The SWISS are light, the NAINSOOK run a little heavier, while the CAMBRIC is the heaviest material.

One noticeable feature of our great embroidery line is the assortment of matched sets--dainty baby sets, wide sets for dresses, consisting of two widths of inserting and three of edge.

Over 50 beautiful matched sets to select from.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

NOT long ago I was delegated as a newspaper woman to help investigate a certain strike.

The strikers were men employed in weaving a certain kind of coarse bagging. It was made in rolls. For each roll the workmen had been getting twenty-two cents. Then they had been cut down to twenty cents a roll and had gone on strike.

As it happened to be convenient I went first of all to the head of the firm and asked him to explain the situation to me.

He told me the above facts and then went on to say:— "It is absurd for the men to say they cannot live on twenty cents a roll. Why, Miss Cameron, that is far better than any other concern of the kind pays. An matter of fact, our nearest competitor pays only fourteen cents a roll. The men simply don't realize how well they are treated."

He talked to me for some time in this strain, and when I left his office I was quite convinced that the men were unreasonable. If the nearest competitor paid but fourteen cents a roll it seemed to me these men ought to be satisfied with twenty cents.

It did not really seem to me that I needed to look any farther to find out if the strike were just or not. But I had been told to see both parties, so I went to one of the representatives of the men and told him what I had heard.

He laughed scornfully.
"The boss forget to tell you that the rolls that firm pays fourteen cents for aren't but 60 feet long, while ours are 100, didn't he?"

And then, too, maybe you don't know much about the weaving business, but it makes a good deal of difference what the stock you are using is like. There's a lot of coarse, hard stuff in what we use, and that keeps breaking the machines, and every time a machine breaks that's a loss for the weaver, you know. Men that come here from other factories usually gets clean discouraged because the stock is so rotten and they have to spend so much time mending their machines that they can't make much of anything."

Whereupon I naturally altered my first cocksure opinion.

The next day a woman who is rather at odds with her daughter-in-law came to see my mother. As she poured her grievance forth, told how Elmer was always going about and never staid at home to help with the work, and of an evening, instead of sitting down and making a pleasant for the whole family, always wanted to lug John off to his private sitting room, I began to condemn Elmer in my heart. And then I remembered the strike and forebore.

And a few days later when Elmer over her fancy work casually mentioned a few of the difficulties of being her mother-in-law's daughter-in-law, such as having everything you did to help down to the making of a bed or the dusting of a room, criticized, and being expected to tell whenever you went out, where you were going and how long you would stay, I realized that strikes are not the only controversies that have two sides.

When you hear a case of any kind put strongly and apparently logically your natural impulse is to be convinced.

Don't.

No matter how absolutely one sided a case appears it is pretty safe to say that it has two or more likely more sides to it.

Doubtless the townspeople could have given me the third side to the strike and Elmer's husband could have mentioned a third angle to the mother-in-law question.

MRS. MAX FIGMAN.

WELL KNOWN STAGE BEAUTY OF THE COAST WON BY ACTOR.
San Francisco, Cal.—Miss Lolita Robertson who was formerly a popular actress at the Alcazar theater and known as the girl with the "cowboy smile," has given up the footlights for a quiet home and the man of her choice, Mr. Max Figman. The wedding took place at Redwood City this week and the first announcement of the wedding was given that night when Figman appeared on the stage at the Savoy theater in "Mary Jane's Pa."
The orchestra at once struck up Mon-dele's wedding march and a storm of rice broke over the footlights.
Mr. and Mrs. Figman are popular with coast audiences.
Mrs. Figman is the daughter of Figman, took up "Mary Jane's Pa."

and as thin have in the place he's bound to smoke in. Give me, but some as thin babies grows up with the tobacco smoke in the very marrow of their bones. Then, after they grow up they are hungry for it, and you can see little babies with stumps as big as their fists. How can they help it when the air half starved away, and the baby may be had for the plectin' up?
They grow up with every man's hand right 'em. The palace chooses them off the sidewalk; the milk at the yards chase them off the tracks, and even the alleys are not fit them for playin'.

"The tramp man comes after them if they stay out at school, but mummy a kid is never caught at all. No man ever knows he is in the world till he breaks a windy or steals some old junk, and then he is too old to find."

he gets to be a gang that, have no way or mummy a decent whif' by work, works harder yet at it. It's hummin'." They drink at first because some big felly dices them, and they drink in between time because they drink can't less than grub and for a bit makes them feel better and then they drink because they can't do without it."

you want people to be good you may just depend on this—yell have to make them happy along with it."

FATHER 80-MOTHER 76

The aged father and mother of a prominent Boston lawyer safely carried through the last two winters by

Vinol

The son says: "My father and mother owe their present strength and good health to Vinol. During the last two trying winters neither of them had a cold, and were able to walk farther and do more than for years. I think Vinol is perfectly wonderful. It certainly is the greatest blood-making, strengthening tonic for old people I ever heard of."

We want every feeble old person in this town to try Vinol. We will return their money without question if it does not accomplish all we claim for it.

SMITH DRUG CO., Janesville.

Did You Ever See the New Gall Cure Collar?

It is without question the best hair stuffed collar made. It is made by taking a pad of genuine curled hair 5 inches thick, formed over a layer of cotton, into a pad. The collar is built over this hair pad in such a way that the curled hair pad is separated from the skin of the horse by the leather or fabric of which the face of the collar is made. The result is that it is impossible to gall a horse if the collar fits.

The curled hair pad will hold its shape until the collar is worn out. The sweat from the animal will rot straw or cotton, but curled hair never changes. A Gall Cure Collar is constantly ventilating itself, thereby giving it double life.

A Gall Cure Collar with russet leather face, all thong sewed, faced with Gall Cure Curled Hair pads with cloth lined, sole leather caps, double strength throat, hand finished, about 18-inch draft, $3.50.

Gall Cure Collar, same as above, 17-inch draft, $4.00.

Truck Case, Gall Cure Collar, 17-inch draft, $4.50.
